

PHARR INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE BOARD MEMBER BIO

Edgar Delgadillo
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Edgar A. Delgadillo serves as the Chairman of the Board, where he leverages his extensive experience to advise on expediting freight operations and fostering growth in our bridge crossings. With a robust background in both transportation and logistics, as well as construction and land development, Edgar brings a wealth of expertise to the organization.

In his professional journey, Edgar has held prominent positions as CEO/COO of a transportation and logistics company and CEO/COO at a construction and development company. One of his most significant career accomplishments includes founding a service maquila-immex in 2006, as well as playing a pivotal role in promoting the second span expansion of the Pharr Bridge, a project that significantly impacted regional infrastructure and trade.

Edgar holds a Bachelor of Business Administration and Accounting from the University of Texas Pan American, and he has furthered his expertise with training in CDL DOT safety training. His key areas of specialization encompass transportation, logistics, customs, construction, and land development. Known for his excellent communication and people skills, Edgar brings a unique blend of experience and user perspective to the board.

His contributions to the bridge industry are notable; Edgar was instrumental in initiating the Bridge Connect program and the Produce Season events at the bridge. Moreover, he helped the bridge become a pioneering member of several national and international organizations, including NASCO and CAREM.

Outside of his professional life, Edgar is a family man who enjoys attending his children's sports events, as well as fishing, hunting, and playing golf. Guided by the golden rule—treat others the way you want to be treated—Edgar embodies a leadership style rooted in respect and integrity. His favorite quote, “Life happens while you are making plans,” reflects his pragmatic approach to both life and business.
